The Phoenix Convention Center's South Building offers 143,400 square feet of versatile event space that can be transformed to suit any event. The building features two exhibition halls (48,000 and 34,000 square feet), a 28,000 square-foot ballroom, and nearly 34,000 square feet of divisible meeting space. Two spacious lobbies and the 10,500 square-foot outdoor Ballroom Terrace provide additional event-space options. This building has a 600 pounds/square foot weight capacity.

The South Building boasts several unique features. The full-service South Ballroom offers numerous permanent amenities including a 6,000 square-foot stage, built-in lighting and sound technology, an audio-visual control bridge and four chorus and three VIP (Star) dressing rooms. Additionally, the building's flexible meeting space can be divided to create as many as 18 separate meeting rooms, or completely opened to provide additional exhibition hall space. On-the-floor show offices, public announcement and stereo sound systems, dimmable lighting, and a kitchen capable of catering for 5,000 guests complement this functional venue.

For easy access and move-in, the South Building offers 14 street-level truck bays and two loading ramps, both with 26' W x 25' H dock doors. Adjacent parking garages with more than 4,000 spaces provide convenient options for guests visiting this venue.
