

NEIGHBORHOOD BINGO

ASK A NEIGHBOR: How long have you lived here? How have you seen the neighborhood change?	Attend an event hosted by your local government.	Ask a neighbor for help with something.	Host a neighborhood pancake breakfast.	Find out what local groups or associations are currently looking for volunteers.
Visit the nearest library; read everything posted on the bulletin board there.	Introduce yourself to the person who most recently moved into the neighborhood.	Invite a neighbor to co-host a block party (or simple cookout) with you.	Ask a neighbor a question.	ASK A NEIGHBOR: What's your least favorite thing about our neighborhood?
ASK A NEIGHBOR: What's your favorite thing about our neighborhood?	Learn the names of three neighbors.	A good neighbor is... ----- - ----- -- -----	Spend an hour (or two) hanging out in a neighborhood public space (like a park).	Work with neighbors to make an emergency contact list, then distribute to group.
Research the types of trees found in your neighborhood.	Do a canned food drive as a neighborhood and donate to a local foodbank.	Offer to help a neighbor with something they are working on.	Make a lemonade or hot chocolate stand to give away drinks.	Learn the names of two pets in the neighborhood that you don't currently know.
Make extra baked goods and bring them to a neighbor.	Organize a game-watching party for a local team or big national game.	Learn about the Hopeful Neighborhood Project on our website.	Build a Little Free Library.	Draw a map of your neighborhood, marking down the neighbors you know by name.

NEIGHBORHOOD BINGO

Learn the names of three neighbors.	Find out which five businesses closest to your home are locally owned.	Compliment two neighbors.	Introduce yourself to the person who most recently moved into the neighborhood.	Make extra baked goods and bring them to a neighbor.
Hold a garage sale and put up a sign offering "neighbor discounts."	Spend an hour (or two) hanging out in a neighborhood public space (like a park).	Ask a neighbor for advice about something.	For one week, shop more locally than you normally do.	Attend a local sporting event.
Ask a neighbor for the next small ingredient you run out of.	Invite a neighbor to co-host a block party (or simple cookout) with you.	A good neighbor is... ----- - ----- -- -----	Find out what local groups or associations are currently looking for volunteers.	Find out who has lived in your neighborhood the longest.
ASK A NEIGHBOR: How long have you lived here? How have you seen the neighborhood change?	Send (or hand-deliver) a card to five neighbors for the next big holiday.	Learn about the Hopeful Neighborhood Project on our website.	Host an outdoor movie and invite your neighbors.	Spend an hour sitting where neighbors walk by, and say, "Hi."
Draw a map of your neighborhood, marking down the neighbors you know by name.	Research the types of birds found in your neighborhood.	Work with neighbors to make an emergency contact list, then distribute to group.	Look up demographic information about people in your ZIP Code.	Make a lemonade or hot chocolate stand to give away drinks.

NEIGHBORHOOD BINGO

Draw a map of your neighborhood, marking down the neighbors you know by name.	Find out what local groups or associations are currently looking for volunteers.	Make extra baked goods and bring them to a neighbor.	ASK A NEIGHBOR: Who do you think has lived in the neighborhood the longest?	Learn about the Hopeful Neighborhood Project on our website.
Invite a neighbor to co-host a block party (or simple cookout) with you.	Research the types of trees found in your neighborhood.	Learn the names of three neighbors.	Ask a neighbor a question.	ASK A NEIGHBOR: What's your least favorite thing about our neighborhood?
Make a lemonade or hot chocolate stand to give away drinks.	Spend an hour (or two) hanging out in a neighborhood public space (like a park).	A good neighbor is... ----- - ----- -- -----	Visit the nearest library; read everything posted on the bulletin board there.	Organize a board game or card game night with neighbors.
Go to an event at the local high school (sports, drama, music, etc.).	Start a (or join your) neighborhood Facebook group.	Do research to find out five new facts about the history of your neighborhood.	Host a neighborhood chili cookoff.	ASK A NEIGHBOR: Who lived in my place before me? What can you tell me about them?
ASK A NEIGHBOR: What's your favorite thing about our neighborhood?	Work with neighbors to make an emergency contact list, then distribute to group.	Introduce yourself to the person who most recently moved into the neighborhood.	ASK A NEIGHBOR: How long have you lived here? How have you seen the neighborhood change?	Spend an hour sitting where neighbors walk by, and say, "Hi."

NEIGHBORHOOD BINGO

Learn about the Hopeful Neighborhood Project on our website.	Organize a homemade cookie contest and invite neighbors to submit a dozen.	Organize a game-watching party for a local team or big national game.	Read the local news of your local paper or website.	Learn the names of three neighbors.
Compliment two neighbors.	ASK A NEIGHBOR: How long have you lived here? How have you seen the neighborhood change?	Work with neighbors to make an emergency contact list, then distribute to group.	Spend an hour cleaning up trash or debris around your neighborhood.	Spend an hour (or two) hanging out in a neighborhood public space (like a park).
ASK A NEIGHBOR: Who do you think has lived in the neighborhood the longest?	Draw a map of your neighborhood, marking down the neighbors you know by name.	A good neighbor is... ----- - ----- -- -----	Ask a neighbor for advice about something.	Make extra baked goods and bring them to a neighbor.
Invite a neighbor to co-host a block party (or simple cookout) with you.	Find out what local groups or associations are currently looking for volunteers.	Introduce yourself to the person who most recently moved into the neighborhood.	Send (or hand-deliver) a card to five neighbors for the next big holiday.	Learn the names of two pets in the neighborhood that you don't currently know.
Offer to help a neighbor with something they are working on.	Research the types of birds found in your neighborhood.	Take a long, unhurried walk and see how many neighbors you can wave to.	Host a story night where you and a group of neighbors share stories over dessert.	Make a lemonade or hot chocolate stand to give away drinks.